WARRANTY AND INDEMNITY

The constructional, electrical and mechanical specifications of Caribbean Boats are designed primarily to a company standard which has been developed over 50 years of experience both in Australia and the USA. Whilst these design specifications have proven more than adequate for normal use, owners should be aware that they do not necessarily comply with any government or industry standard, which may vary from time to time around various states and countries.

Each new Caribbean boat is covered by a twelve month limited warranty which is a manufacturer's guarantee covering any structural defect occurring during or as a result of normal use. In addition a comprehensive Owner's Manual with Safety and Maintenance Schedule, including complete wiring diagrams, is provided with each boat and if carefully followed will help to ensure reliable and trouble-free boating.

International Marine, like all other manufacturers throughout the world, is unable to guarantee gelcoat, which, being purely cosmetic is subject to fading, discolouration and crazing and may be affected by antifoul, climatic and numerous other operational factors.

Due to the wide variety of pleasure boat operational applications International Marine is unable to accept a "Duty of care" for those on board.

A detailed Warranty Card, Owner's Manual with Safety and Maintenance Schedule, which should be studied thoroughly, is available with each Caribbean and receipt of these items should be registered with International Marine at the time of purchase by completing and returning the Warranty Card within the stated 14 days.
